

We are on the way

We are really excited to be able to support you in your eLearning needs and hope this is a rich and rewarding experience for you all. We are here to help, so if you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us.

To get the ball rolling, we have asked you to attend to some important tasks such as completing the document in the Google docs we shared with you in the blog. We also ask you to join our project blog. We are still waiting for a number of you to join us there. If you need another invite just ask

This is designed to help you get connected to our eLearning community and give us some indication of your organisational and personal eLearning needs.

Our task is to determine what you want to do.

This could be any one (or several) of the following:

- network with others in your field
- communicate in real time online
- store and share resources
- create or source innovative learning resources
- explore relevant web 2.0 tools for specific purposes
- get help with an e-learning project
- set up a learning management system
