

Welcome

Updates

We hope you have all gotten back into work mode after a well-earned rest. We are now into the last couple of months of this round of the e-mentor project. So it's time for us to collect data and start setting up the regions Road show that will end this round of the project in late June.

There will be an opportunity to continue if you wish when the next round of e-Mentor project is announced

It would be great if you could showcase your progress to date in the Moodle and give some examples of how things are changing within your organisation now you are using technology. What is working well and what future do you see this technology changing your practice.

To help get this underway, we have planned a small activity for you to complete, hopefully it will get you focused on your organisational objectives and continue to inspire you to build your eCapabilities.

Finalise your action plans please so they are completed by end of project.

Report and reflect on your progress in the Moodle.

MOODLE Reflections

- Reflective journal – Just where you are at the moment
- What have you achieved or learnt

ACTION PLAN – HIGHLY RECOMMENDED

- Goals – personal and professional
- Plans – what you are going to work on

Welcome

Webinars are a great way to learn online in synchronous time and there are many you can join that are free for further professional development. We encourage you to enjoy your new skillsets and continue to be a self-directed learner

The Buchan Project are delivering weekly webinars that you may wish to attend, these are every second Thursday and cover many topics as they are directed towards community members.

The Australia e-Series now have a new team of very innovative educators that you may enjoy following and joining their webinars. Community Connect is every Thursday night at 8pm.

Evelyn will ask you to fill in an application form so that we can get you into the Microsoft Lync program.

I recommend you trial this as it is really an exceptional tool for networking instant messaging, calling a meeting and sharing information instantly. You can record your discussions, use a whiteboard and share files. We are using this program to develop a project and it is working perfectly for collaboration and information sharing across the country

So please let Evelyn know you are ready and we will start rolling out Lync.
